GOVERNMENT'S LEIN COVERED

New Congressional Library Opened Without Ceremony—Captain Lovering to Be Court-martialed for His Treatment of Private Hammond—Public Debt Statement—Revenue Collections.

OMAHA, Nov. 2.—The interest of the United States government in the Union Pacific railroad terminated yesterday when, at the foreclosure sale of the mortgage held by the United States, the road was purchased by the committee of eastern capitalists formed for its reorganization.

The full amount accruing to the United States from the sale cannot be given exactly, but is estimated to be $58,065,748.40. It was impossible to determine the full amount at the time of sale for the reason that the monthly statement made by the secretary of the treasury to the management of the Union Pacific on the first of every month was not available and it was found necessary to estimate some items, although it is admitted by both sides that the estimates are approximately correct.

The amount due the government is made up as follows: Principal of debt, $27,236,512; Interest paid by government up to Sept. 30, 1897, $30,830,836.37; Interest accrued by Sept. 30 and still unpaid, $28,998,147.68; Interest accrued in Oct., $26,382.56; Total due the government, $87,092,388.61.

Against this are the following credits: Cash and bonds in sinking fund, $13,182,466.58; Estimated credits for the quarter ending Sept. 30, and for the month of October, including government earnings and the interest on bonds in the sinking fund, amount not yet credited, $384,180.21; Total credit $18,566,646.74. Total debt of the railroad to the government, $68,525,741.87. Total credit of railroad with government $18,566,646.74; Balance and amount bid by reorganization committee, $39,959,095.13. The sinking fund bonds sold for $13,645,260.80. Total bids by reorganization committee, $53,525,332.76.

The amount earned by the road during the quarter ended Sept. 30, and during the month of October is estimated, but is practically correct, and as the government will simply retain the cash, crediting the amount on the bids of the committee, the amount to be turned over as a consequence of the sale is $58,065,748.40.

After the sale was concluded, General Cowin, the representative of the government, was assured by the committee that if the amounts were not accurately figured or should differ from the figures given above, whatever may be lacking will be paid by the committee and will in no way be allowed to interfere with the confirmation of the sale. There was no opposition to the committee and no bids were offered against its bid.

A protest from Manager Frank Trumbull of the Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf railroad against the sale with the other Union Pacific property of two miles of track on the Cheyenne and Northern road was received, the two miles being claimed both by the Union Pacific and the Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf. Mr. Cornish, after reading the protest, announced that any prospective purchaser of the road must be willing to encounter the consequences of the protest and that no guarantee of their ownership by the Union Pacific was included in the sale. This was agreeable to the reorganization committee and the sale proceeded.

CONGRESSIONAL LIBRARY.

The New Building Opened Without Public Ceremony.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The new congressional library which has been in course of construction for the past six years was opened to the public yesterday. There were no ceremonies of any kind. All the departments with the exception of those devoted to the fine arts and music are ready for use of the public and the work in the two named is being pushed as rapidly as possible. Everything is on a complete scale and the automatic arrangements for the delivery and return of books worked satisfactorily. About 350,000 volumes are now on the shelves of the library, many of the books not having as yet been removed from the capital building in which the old library was located.

President Will Order a Court-martial on Charges Made by General Brooks.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—When the president returns a court-martial will be ordered to try Captain Lovering, the officer who has recently been subjected to a court of inquiry at Fort Sheridan for alleged abuse of Private Hammond. YELLOW FEVER.

Thirty-Eight Cases and One Dozen Deaths at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—From now on the number of yellow fever cases will gradually decrease, is the opinion of the board of health officials. The anxiously awaited cold wave has arrived here and even colder weather is wished for. The cold snap has had the effect of increasing the mortality and also has caused the number of cases to swell somewhat. It is generally believed, however, that there will be a decided improvement in the situation.

The board of health reported as follows: Cases of yellow fever yesterday 38, deaths 12.

Quarantine Raised.

CHATTANOOGA, Nov. 2.—The Chattanooga and Hamilton county health authorities have raised the quarantine against points infected with yellow fever. THAT INDIAN TROUBLE.

Investigating the Fight Between Gamekeepers and Redskins.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—General Otis has sent to the war department a copy of a dispatch received from Captain Wright, who investigated the Indian trouble in Colorado, as follows:

RANCH, Utah, Oct. 25.

Have just met a party of about 75 Indians returning to agency, including one of the survivors, stated that about 25 warriors rode up to them while in camp and, after stating that they were gamekeepers, they proceeded to attack them. The Indians resisted and the gamekeepers opened fire. Four bucks only in the Indian party. Indians did not return the fire, as their guns were in their tents. Two survivors escaped under a squaw. Doctor says wound in one squaw's head is not dangerous. Squaw Wild, wounded in the leg, is not examined yet. Indians coming home from all directions. Gamekeepers are in Lilly park.

General Otis says the dispatch confirms those previously received as to the extent of Indian disturbances in northwestern Colorado. Letters and telegrams from citizens, via Meeker and Little, Colo., report Indian depredations committed. Captain Wright will investigate under instructions sent him and will return all Indians to the agency.

McKnight's new bond was fixed at $12,000.

DEAD AT HIS DESK.

That is the story the morning newspapers tell of the modern business man. Too much money getting. Too little care for health. Too much rush, and strain, and wear and tear. Too little time to eat, to sleep, to digest the food, to rest tired body and tortured brain. Not enough time to think once in a while of health and strength and happiness and a long and useful life. A widow and orphan left to mourn. A big estate that under the dissecting knife of the great physician to our family, writes Mr. Ira S. Foster, of Golden Medical Discovery, "his water was all pure blood. We got a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it did him so much good that he tried another and then a third, and the fourth cured him."

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a great tonic to our family, writes Mr. Ira S. Foster, of Golden Medical Discovery, "his water was all pure blood. We got a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it did him so much good that he tried another and then a third, and the fourth cured him."

Nothing in the world so many times pays for itself to its owner as a good medical book. The very best one is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Now for a limited time, an edition, paper-covered, will be distributed FREE. Send in one-cent stamps (to pay the cost of mailing only), to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y. For 31 stamps you may obtain the book in cloth, beautifully stamped.

"OFF YEARS" IN OHIO

How Elections Have Resulted on Such Occasions in the Past.

CLAIMS MADE BY BOTH PARTIES

End of the Most Sensational Campaign in the History of New York—Political Calculations Were Constantly Upset by Some New Move or Event to Confuse the Voter.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 2.—The last day of the Ohio campaign was so incident that most of the meetings were abandoned. This is what is known as an "off year" in Ohio. The years following presidential elections are called "off years." Following the election of Hayes in 1876, the Democrats carried Ohio in 1877 for Bishop for governor and a legislature that made George H. Pendleton (Dem.) senator. Following the election of Cleveland in 1884, the Republicans carried the state in 1885 for Foraker for governor and Sherman for senator.

Following the election of Harrison in 1888, the Democrats in 1889 elected Campbell governor and secured a legislature that made Brice senator. Following the re-election of Cleveland in 1892, came the election of McKinley as governor and the return of Sherman to the senate. And the Democrats now say that following the election of McKinley in 1896, history will repeat itself on the record of "off years" being against the party that is in power. The Democrats are claiming Hamilton county by a large plurality and on account of its 14 members in the legislature they also claim a majority in that body for the election of a United States senator. The Republicans claim a large plurality on their state ticket and that they will have a majority in the legislature without Hamilton county. The Republicans last night offered bets even on electing their candidate.

NEW YORK.

Result of Sensational Campaign to Be Decided by Ballots Today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The most sensational political campaign in the history of New York ended last night. Not a day for the past month has been devoid of exciting incidents. A few months ago it seemed as though there would be a straight fight between the republicans and Democrats with the odds in favor of the latter on account of the opposition to the Raines liquor law. The law is highly unpopular with the foreign born inhabitants of the city.

Four events have occurred which have in turn upset the calculations of the political leaders. The first was the formation of the Citizens' union, which drew its strength chiefly from the Republican party, and whose leaders were fiercely hostile to Senator Platt.

The next startling event was the return from Europe of Richard Croker and his immediate assumption of the management of Tammany hall. He swept aside all opposition and

THAT INDIAN TROUBLE.

Investigating the Fight Between Gamekeepers and Redskins.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—General Otis has sent to the war department a copy of a dispatch received from Captain Wright, who investigated the Indian trouble in Colorado, as follows:

RANCH, Utah, Oct. 28.

Have just met a party of about 75 Indians returning to agency, including one wounded Indian. Ungulshem Star, one of the survivors, stated that about 25 warriors rode up to them while in camp and, after stating that they were gamekeepers, tried to arrest the Indians. The Indians resisted arrest and the gamekeepers opened fire. Four bullets only in the Indian party. Indians did not return the fire, as their guns were in their tents. Two survivors escaped under fire. Surgeon sent to dressing wounded squaws. Doctor says wound in one squaw's head not dangerous. Squaw Wild, wounded in arm, is not examined yet. Indians going back to dressing while in camp. Gamekeepers are in Lilly pass. General Otis says the dispatch confirms those previously received as to the extent of Indian disturbances in northwestern Colorado. Letters and telegrams from citizens, via Meeker and Ride, Colo., report Indian depredations committed. Captain Wright will investigate under instructions sent him and will return all Indians to the agency.

THEY ARE IN KANSAS.

Two Towns in Which There are Neither Idiots, Tipplers or Dogs.

TOPEKA, Nov. 2.—The latest Kansas peculiarity is the report of a cursory census taker of Lost Springs and Ramona, two towns in Marion county with 200 population each. There is not a vacant house in either place, not an idle man or boy, not a tippler and not a dog. The claim is made that there never was a drop of intoxicating liquor sold in these towns. A crusade against the use of tobacco will be the next move of the women of Ramona.

DEAD AT HIS DESK.

That is the story the morning newspapers tell of the modern business man. Too much money-getting. Too little care for health. Too much rush, and strain, and wear and tear. Too little time to eat, to sleep, to digest the food, to rest tired body and tortured brain. Not enough time to think once in a while of health and strength. A and happiness and a long and useful life. A widow and orphans left to mourn. A big estate that under the dissecting knife of the executor falls all to pieces. This is the story of thousands of business men. The reputed wealthy and successful. It is a story that is unnecessary—need not be.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery if resorted to occasionally will keep a man or woman in good health. It goes to the roots of things. It tunes up the strings of life and makes them vibrate to the music of good health. It makes the appetite keen, the digestion good, the blood pure and the nerves strong. Then ill-health is an impossibility, and work is a pleasure. Thousands say so.

Your Golden Medical Discovery has been a great physician to our family," writes Mr. Ira S. Post, of Naylor, Ripley Co., Mo. "My wife's father had a disease. His water was almost pure blood. We got a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it did him so much good that he tried another and then a third, and the fourth entirely cured him."

Nothing in the world so many times pays for itself to its owner as a good medical book. The very best and useful life. A Common Sense Medical Adviser. Now for a limited time, an edition, paper-covered, will be distributed FREE, sent at one-cent stamps (to pay the cost of mailing only), to those who will send a recent photograph, Buffalo, N.Y. For 31 stamps you may obtain the book in cloth, beautifully stamped.

"OFF YEARS" IN OHIO

How Elections Have Resulted on Such Occasions in the Past.

CLAIMS MADE BY BOTH PARTIES

End of the Most Sensational Campaign in the History of New York—Political Calculations Were Constantly Upset by Some New Move or Event to Confuse the Voter.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 2.—The last day of the Ohio campaign was so inclement that most of the meetings were abandoned. This is what is known as an "off year" in Ohio. The years following presidential elections are called "off years." Following the election of Hayes in 1876, the Democrats carried Ohio in 1877 for Bishop for governor and a legislature that made George H. Pendleton (Dem.) senator. Following the election of Cleveland in 1884, the Republicans carried the state in 1885 for Foraker for governor and Sherman for senator.

Following the election of Harrison in 1888, the Democrats in 1889 elected Campbell governor and secured a legislature that made Brice senator. Following the re-election of Cleveland in 1892, came the election of McKinley as governor and the return of Sherman to the senate. And the Democrats now say that following the election of McKinley in 1896, history will repeat itself on the record of "off years" being against the party that is in power. The Democrats are claiming Hamilton county by a large plurality and on account of its 14 members in the legislature they also claim a majority in that body for the election of a United States senator. The Republicans claim a large plurality on their state ticket and that they will have a majority in the legislature without Hamilton county. The Republicans last night offered bets even on electing their candidate.

NEW YORK.

Result of Sensational Campaign to Be Decided by Ballots Today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The most sensational political campaign in the history of New York ended last night. Not a day for the past month has been devoid of exciting incidents. A few months ago it seemed as though there would be a straight fight between the republicans and Democrats with the odds in favor of the latter on account of the opposition to the Ralnes liquor law. The law is highly unpopular with the foreign born inhabitants of the city.

Four events have occurred which have in turn upset the calculations of the political leaders. The first was the formation of the Citizens' union, which drew its strength chiefly from the Republican party, and whose leaders were fiercely hostile to Senator Platt.

The next startling event was the return from Europe of Richard Croker and his immediate assumption of the management of Tammany hall. He swept aside all opposition and dictated the nomination of Robert A. Van Wyck for mayor, and carried matters with such a high hand as to lead to serious defections from the wigwam.

The third epoch was the nomination of Henry George by the Jeffersonian Democrats. His veterans in the campaign of 1895, when he polled 68,000 votes flopped to his standard as the soldiers of France did to the banner of Napoleon returned from Elba.

Then came George's death to again set at naught all calculations and to confuse the voter. The Republicans, Tammany, Citizens and George parties all mailed appeals to the voters yesterday and all made claims that they would be successful today.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

RIOTING WORKMEN.

Unionists and Nonunionists Have a Battle at Scottsdale, Pa.

SCOTTSDALE, Pa., Nov. 2.—A riot occurred here last night in which Henry Gillespie, John Jordan and Manager Skimp of the Scottsdale Iron and Steel company were injured. Frank Keltz, a union man, had been beaten into insubordination by nonunion iron workers and Keltz's fellow workmen vowed vengeance. Manager Skimp, fearing trouble when his men quit work, formed 30 or 40 of them in line and marched up Pittsburg street. At Broadway a large crowd had gathered. John Jordan, a nonunion man, was shot in the left side and was struck by a stone or brick on the left side of the head and is seriously, though not dangerously wounded. Henry Gillespie was shot through right arm, the ball passing through an artery and he almost died to death before the wound could be dressed. John Jordan had three fingers shot off. Several others were slightly injured by being struck with stones. From the number of shots fired it is almost miraculous that no one was killed outright.

FOR SCIENCE.

Second Expedition to Patagonia to Start Saturday Next.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 2.—The second expedition to Patagonia, under the auspices of Princeton University, will sail from New York on Saturday, Nov. 6. J. B. Hatcher, curator of paleontology of Princeton University, will conduct the researches along the coast of South America from Terra del Fuego Archipelago to southern Patagonia. The expedition will be gone three years, but the large outlay of money in the enterprise will be amply compensated for by the important contributions to science by the nature of a collection of mammals of the Tertiary period and valuable contributions to ethnology.

SHOWED FIGHT.

Indiana Man Said to Be Implanted in a Missouri Holding.

MEYER, Mo., Nov. 2.—Nathan Stark, a prominent farmer, was held up on the highway by Ira Sexton, a neighbor, who attempted to rob him. Stark resisted, and Sexton shot and killed him. Sexton was taken to Princeton and placed in jail. The feeling against him is strong, and an extra guard has been placed about the jail. The robbers got nothing.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

Mining Company Officers Rescued From a Burning Mine by Workmen.

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 2.—A fire broke out in the Central mine late yesterday. The miners ascended to the surface at once. Later it was discovered that Frank Stanton, agent of the mine, with his father, John Stanton of New York, secretary of the company, and William A. Payne of Boston were still in the mine. A relief party descended into the mine and by almost superhuman efforts rescued the imprisoned men, who were well exhausted. The mine openings have all been sealed airtight and the fire will be suffocated in about a week.

OUTLAW ESCAPE JAIL.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Nov. 2.—The four Belle Fourch robbers overpowered the Lawrence county jailer and his wife, outraged the woman and escaped into the hills, taking with them William Moore, a negro murderer. The robbers are members of the desperate Curry gang of outlaws and were captured only a week or two ago in Montana after a severe battle.

Sick Headache.

Neuralgia and Extreme Nervousness.

EVER since I was eighteen years old until I learned of Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies, I suffered from sick headache and extreme nervousness and dyspepsia. In time heart disease developed. I was treated by several doctors with no relief. Severe palpitation with pain in left breast, shortness of breath, and smothering spells made me most miserable. I procured Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and New Heart Cure and took them alternately as directed. Improvement began at once and increased so rapidly that inside of six months I increased thirty six pounds in weight. All pain in the heart is gone, and the nervousness has wholly left me.

TO-DAY'S ELECTIONS.

Interest in today's election centers in Ohio and Greater New York. In Ohio both parties are claiming the result. The democrats are resting their claims on the fact that it is an "off year." The republicans are confident of carrying the day and securing an endorsement of the administration and that the entire state ticket will be elected and a majority in the legislature.

In New York the municipal contests have been very bitter, but the principal interest is centered in Greater New York which elects its first mayor under the new charter. With four candidates in the field it has been difficult to anticipate the result. Each party claimed the advantage until Henry George's sudden death still further complicated the situation.

In Maryland Senator Gorman has been fighting for his political life and the republicans express great confidence in their ability to turn him down today and carry the state.

In Kentucky a legislature is to be elected but many fusion candidates in different parts of the state make it difficult for any party to claim a decided advantage.

In Iowa it is simply a question as to what the republican majority will be.

In Pennsylvania there is no question as to the result. Dr. Swallow, the prohibition candidate is making some large claims.

Out in Nebraska, Bryan's state, the republicans have a good chance for carrying the state.

In Massachusetts, Colorado, Virginia, New Jersey and Rhode Island elections will be held but the contests have attracted little interest outside of the states themselves.

The Grandest Remedy.

R. B. Greeve, merchant of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made as it has done for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at W. F. Peter's drug store.

County Treasurer Alex Greger asks us to say to Seymour parties who have sent checks in payment of their taxes that they need not feel uneasy about their checks. Mail has been very heavy and it may be two or three days before he can attend to all.

After meals you should have simply a feeling of comfort and satisfaction. You should not feel any special indications that digestion is going on. If you do, you have indigestion, which means not-digestion. This may be the beginning of so many dangerous diseases that it is best to take it in hand at once and treat it with Shaker Digestive Cordial. For you know that indigestion makes poison, which causes pain and sickness. And that Shaker Digestive Cordial helps digestion. Shaker Digestive Cordial does this by providing the digestive materials in which the sick stomach is wanting. It also tones up and strengthens the digestive organs and makes them perfectly healthy. This is the rationale of its method of cure, as the doctors would say. Sold by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

Chrysanthemum Show Excursion to Louisville via Pennsylvania Lines.

A Mirror.

"To hold the mirror up to nature," Shakespeare said, "is the business of the theatre and the art of the actor."

The pessimistic Schopenhauer, to paraphrase the sublime man's words said, "Not to go to the theatre is like making one's toilet without a mirror."

When the supreme pessimist and the supreme optimistic meet or one point it may be well for our people to meet and see Donald Robertson and Miss Brandon Douglass in "The Man in the Iron Mask," which we know is at least a true reflection of the days of dance and devilry and the foreshadow of the eclipse of an empire's reign. Bad Story Telling.

If Oscar Wilde's assumption were to be taken seriously, that all fiction is lying, it might account for much that afflicts readers, since the lack of morale affects the intellect, and what is done without conscience is apt to be done badly. Of course all fiction is not lying, as all killing is not murder, but it is a sad fact that many writers of novels and short stories seem to have left their consciences and much of their brains behind when they go forth to work—as if these belongings might safely remain in seclusion, with the dress coat and the white tie, to be brought out only for special occasions. Artemus Ward once remarked that he had a giant mind, but did not have it with him, and that (or the latter half of it) is apt to be the case with all of us when we are careless. True, even good Homer sometimes nodded, but this affords no example for us who are not Homers. To come to our tasks otherwise than with all our wits about us and invite public attention to the chance "cozings of our brains" is as if one should issue from his apartments unshorn and half clad or enter upon a busy haunts of men without a penny in his pocket.—Frederic M. Bird in Lippincott's.

A VIRTUE OF OLIVE OIL.

Man-of-war's Men Say That It Will Prevent Intoxication.

The glasses were going round when the man who had been in the navy spoke: "Wait a minute, boys. We've had several. Let me give you a tip that I learned when I was on the China station. You are pretty good drinkers, you Kentucky boys, and you can hold your own with anybody, east, west or north, who tries to put you under the table. But unless you carry out my plan don't you ever stack yourself up against an Englishman, and especially an army or a naval officer. You could knock him out on whisky, but he doesn't drink it, except in the shape of smoky Scotch and Irish abominations. But champagne, burgundy, claret, ale, sherry, madeira, port, pulque in Mexico, sake in China, palm liquor in Africa, bambos and shandygaff in India, steer clear of them—that is, unless you have the good luck to meet a certain little, yellow faced, wizened creole from Louisiana whose recipe is passed around the mess table of United States men-of-war to this day.

"It started in the old days when the British officers always had the pleasure of outstaying their American guests or hosts whenever two ships met on foreign stations. Then that little yellow devil came along with his trick, and the Englishman has never since come out better than second in any drinking bout. The secret? Olive oil. One wine-glassful before the fun begins, and, if possible, another later on, and you can keep your wit and legs throughout the dampest evening. I suppose one of two things happens. Either the oil coats the stomach and keeps the alcohol from being absorbed by the system, or else it floats on top and keeps the fumes from rising to the brain. But you'll have to ask the medicine men about that. All I know is its practical result, and that has enabled us Yankee Doodles to go home cheerful and clear headed many an evening when our foreign cousins were speechless."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

AMERICAN TOOLS ABROAD.

Purchasers Found For Them Nowadays Throughout the World.

American tools are sold all over the world. The New York representative of an American tool manufacturing establishment when asked where American tools were sent ran over the export orders received that day. They included orders from Hungary, Austria, Germany, France, England, South Africa and South America. There were altogether about 20 orders, and from some of the countries named there were two or three orders. The export orders of the previous day included orders from Russia, Australia and New Zealand, and these were not unusual orders, but such as are constantly received. In the shipping room at that moment stood cases marked for Java, for Ecuador and for Australia.

Many of these orders are small. In some cases there were orders for a single tool, or for two or three; for some orders of half a dozen or two or three dozen to supply orders or to keep lines filled. These small orders are mostly from European countries, with which communication is nowadays quick and convenient. European merchants order these things just about as merchants in other cities in this country would. It costs no more to send to London than it does to Chicago, and it is as easy to send to Berlin as it is to Paterson.

The characteristics that commend these American tools to their foreign purchasers are the same that mark American machines and implements generally—lightness, fine finish and perfect adaptability to their several uses. The exports of American tools to all parts of the world are steadily increasing.—New York Sun.

A REAL TRAGEDY

ENACTED ON THE SEYMOUR OPERA HOUSE STAGE.

Ben Rosenfield Takes His Own Life in the Presence of the Girl he Loved—Story of the Tragedy.

A real tragedy was enacted on the Seymour Opera House stage last evening. Ben Rosenfield, the "property man," fired a bullet into his brain and fell dead at the feet of Miss Ethel Tucker, the girl he loved.

Ben went to the opera house late in the afternoon to take some property needed in the performance of "The Man in the Iron Mask" Tuesday night. Miss Tucker accompanied him. As it is said she frequently did, when he went to the opera house to perform such duties as fell to him as property man. They were there alone and the details leading up to the tragedy can only be learned from Miss Tucker. But she tells a straight story, which doubtless covers the facts.

Dr. M. F. Gerrish was the first to respond to the cries of the young lady. He was starting to supper a few minutes before 5 o'clock and after turning the Pells corner on Walnut street he heard cries of "help, murder, etc." A moment later he saw Miss Tucker standing in the rear door crying frantically for help. Dr. Gerrish called to Clarence Hinsdale, who was just across the street, and both hastened to the opera house. When they reached the door they saw the limp form of Ben Rosenfield lying on the stage and the blood flowing from a pistol shot wound in his right temple. Grasped in his right hand yet was the revolver with which he took his life. Only one chamber of the weapon was empty. When Dr. Gerrish took hold of the revolver Miss Tucker made an effort to get it, saying: "Let me have it and I will kill myself, too."

A hasty examination showed that the shot was fatal. A few minutes later he breathed his last.

By this time Mayor Baisley, a representative of the REPUBLICAN and several others were present. Miss Tucker, though under the highest strain of excitement, talked intelligently about the tragic affair.

She said that she had accompanied Ben to the opera house to take some property, preparatory to the play the next evening. He had been occupied with some work back of the scenes on the stage. She was sitting at the piano which was at its accustomed place in front of the stage. He came out on the stage and stopping directly in front of her, she says he said: "Ethel won't you marry me?" She replied: "Ben you know I can't do that." (It is reported that he had previously made proposals of marriage to her.) He then said to Miss Tucker that he would kill himself, for life would be nothing to him without her. She said: "Ben you are talking silly. You know you won't do anything of the kind."

He hesitated a moment and then said: "Ethel look at me." "Now come up here and kiss me," she says she went up on the stage and kissed him. He then requested her to look towards the entrance door which she reluctantly did. The instant her eyes were off of him, he drew the revolver concealed on his person and fired the fatal shot. The arm was then given as stated above.

The remains were taken to Husted's morgue and prepared for burial, but were not removed to Mrs. Rosenfield's home until today. The body will be taken to Louisville tomorrow forenoon for burial.

Ben Rosenfield was near thirty years of age, the son of Mrs. Julia Rosenfield, and had a wide acquaintance and many friends in Seymour. He had been long connected with the opera house as "property man," and rendered efficient service. He was a painter by trade.

His tragic death was a severe shock to his mother who has been prostrated with grief since the news was broken to her. Mr. Joseph Kling, an uncle of the deceased, who makes his home in Cincinnati with his daughter, Mrs. Dunbar, and other relatives were notified and some of them are expected to arrive this evening. The relatives have the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

Miss Ethel Tucker, whom the tragedy

has given unsought notoriety, is the daughter of Charles Tucker, the local agent of a Vincennes brewing company. She has had employment at the hotels here, and has recently been employed at the Hotel Jonas. The shock to her was severe and a physician was called to attend her after she was taken to her father's residence.

To the Public.

Having just returned from a trip and hearing of the cards of Mr. Oute and Mr. Geo. Schaefer, published in last Wednesday issue of the REPUBLICAN, I will in reply say, I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Oute, representative of the Progress Furniture Company in Cincinnati and he approached me in regard to times in Seymour. I told him that the factories were all busy and the Progress Co. was busy cutting dimension work for the Band Saw Mill of Seymour, for whom I am soliciting orders. As for me saying they were not manufacturing furniture, is not true, but I did say that they were behind with orders and were working night work. If Mr. Schaefer will kindly notice the next issue of the Furniture Worker he will find a paragraph which will be very interesting to him.

To reach the people of a city an advertiser likes to use the paper of the best character, that goes into the best homes and is read by the best people.

Many advertisers, however, believe that, all things considered, the best paper is the one that sells the most copies.

When the paper taken by the best people is also the one with the largest sale, that is always the one paper that an advertiser should use.

Such a Paper is the Seymour Daily Republican

The proved circulation of the REPUBLICAN is larger than that of any other paper published in Jackson county.

It is an evening paper of high character and has a worth to advertisers beyond the mere figures of its daily circulation. It has no waste circulation. Every copy goes into a home, because it is wanted.

Seymour Republican.

John R. McLean's Daily Enquirer Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is no doubt no greater or more successful publisher in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; and no more successful publisher than the Enquirer in the United States. The circulation of the Enquirer has been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; and times and cheaper journals are failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to. A cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as in those of greater magnitude.

CANDLE POWER.

How to Measure the Lighting Force and Effect of a Flame.

This question and its answer have been until recently of interest to scientists only. But since one method of lighting is competing with the other for superiority the question of lighting power has seemingly become a public matter. How many candle power? The question is very simple and yet mysterious to the layman.

For measuring the lighting power the most reliable results are obtained by means of a grease spot. In its most simple application the experiment can be tried easily at home. A sheet of white paper with a grease spot in the center is put into a frame and placed between two flames of different lighting power—for instance, between an ordinary candle and a lamp.

When the frame is equally distant from the two unequally bright flames, the grease spot can be seen plainly on both sides. By moving the frame with the sheet of paper slowly toward the less brilliant light—that is, the candle—it will arrive finally at a point where the grease spot has apparently disappeared on both sides of the paper. This deception must always occur when on both sides of the paper an equal brightness prevails and no side light exists. Having reached this point, it can be ascertained how much stronger is the light of the lamp than that of the candle.

If the candle is 20 inches distant from the paper and the lamp 60 inches and yet the brightness on both sides of the paper is the same, then the light of the lamp will be as strong as that of nine candles. The calculation is based upon the distances, the figures of which are multiplied by themselves and then divided—here, for instance, 60 times 60 divided by 20 multiplied by 20 equals 9. This, of course, is the most primitive method for measuring light, but it is the principle for all the delicate instruments used in the laboratory.—Pearson's Weekly.

Queen Victoria's Wedding Cake.

Germans are puzzled considerably by the wedding cakes which Queen Victoria sends to royal couples that are married in German palaces. The cakes seem to be ordinary fruit cakes, of the same general composition as the ones seen at most English and American weddings, out their composition, solidity, weight and appearance are matters of uncommon interest to the editors of German journals as well as the people at large.

To the recent wedding in Coburg the queen sent a cake which the editor of the Gotha Gazette studied deeply in order that he might enlighten the anxious readers of his newspaper. He found that its diameter at the base was 3 feet 4 inches and at the top 8 feet. Its height was 3 feet 6 inches. It weighed 125 pounds, or 25 less than the cake her majesty sent to the wedding of the Princess Marie of Edinburgh several years ago. The editor explains that the density of the cake was remarkable—so remarkable, in fact, that a knife could not prevail against it, and a saw must be used to divide off the sections distributed among the guests.

The cake had been iced heavily in England, but its journey by sea and land from London to Coburg shook it up so thoroughly that most of the icing was in fragments at the end of the trip, and the cake was sent to a Coburg confectioner for repairs. Before the cake was saved up it was displayed, with its top pieces of artificial orange blossoms, among the presents of the princely couple.—New York Sun.

Love.

"Treddie's an awful fool, ain't he?"
"He's in love, you know."

"Well?"
"That allows Treddie just half a thought, you see."—New York Sun.

ONE OF TWO WAYS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble or some sort. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need any medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, but sent free by mail. Mention the REPUBLICAN and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. UNCLE SAM'S AUCTION SALE.

Annual Disposal of the Accumulations of the Dead Letter Office.

One of the queerest "institutions" of the national capital is the annual clearance sale of the dead letter office, in which a vast accumulation of articles gone astray in the mails is sold to the highest bidder. The auction house where it is held is continually crowded with excited men, women and children, and beside the bargain counters during the holidays are as havens of rest, for when Uncle Sam goes into the junk shop business great things are expected. As in the church fair raffle, you pay a small amount of money and trust to luck to get back more than its value. The articles, previously listed in a wholesale sort of way, are tied up in bundles of from three to a half dozen and "auctioned" for what they will bring, the average bids ranging between 10 cents and a dollar.

Nobody is permitted to examine the goods before purchasing, and no money is refunded to the dissatisfied. Every body hopes to pull a genuine plum from the pie in the shape of a diamond ring, a silk dress pattern or a silver teapot, and although comparative blanks are the rule, there is always the possibility of a prize. For example, the auctioneer holds up one of these odd shaped bundles, listed "pictures, underwear, music, cigars." Going—going—gone—for 90 cents to a dapper young gentleman who was caught by the word "cigar." He opens it on the spot—an unwise thing to do if one objects to good natural ridicule—and this is what he finds: six cigars, broken into bits with so strong an odor that one wonders how a sledge hammer could have done it; underwear—a female 10 cent "jersey"; pictures—a collection of newspaper cuts designed for amusement of some small child. The lot would be dear at a quarter and is of no use to the buyer.

In the dead letter office proper—that charnel house which swallows nearly half a million missives every month—it is positively harrowing. More than 40 bushels of photographs have accumulated there, awaiting the annual cremation. There are tresses of hair enough to stuff a dozen mattresses, grandmothers' silver locks and babies' golden curls, many no doubt cut from dead brows, and small sums of money which poor workmen send home to feed their wives and little ones, and servant girls save from their scanty wages for needy parents—gone to Uncle Sam's rich purse, not because the United States needs it, but because the senders' writing or orthography was beyond mortal ken. It is hard to realize that in this land of schools, at the close of the nineteenth century, there are so many people so ignorant or so careless as to send several millions of letters a year without stamps or addresses or with addresses which no man can make out. People seem to be so intent on what goes into the letters that they forget all about the superscription. It is estimated that $4,500,000 in drafts and $80,000,000 in cash is received every year through dead letters.—Indianapolis Journal.

COST OF A TRAIN.

The Expense and Profits of Travel on English Railway Lines.

How many people who travel in trains ever think of the cost of running them? It will probably surprise most people who have traveled from London to Edinburgh to know that every mile of the journey costs the railway company over half a crown. The cost of the whole journey from the English to the Scotch capital is £50.

The average cost of running a train in England is 2s. 7d. per mile, so that the fare being reckoned at 1d. per mile, a train with less than 31 passengers for each mile is run at a loss. There are few trains, however, that do not carry more than this number of passengers, and many of them carry the number doubled many times over. It is necessary frequently to run trains that do not pay—usually in thinly inhabited country districts—but for every train run at a loss probably 100 are run at an enormous profit.

Take, for instance, the journey from London to Edinburgh, which costs the railway company £50. The average number of "through" passengers in these trains is probably 60, in which case the total fares would be nearly £100—a clear gain of nearly £50. When it is remembered that these trains run several times a day, and every day in the year, it will be understood what an enormous revenue a single line yields in the course of 12 months. Supposing the average number of passengers to be 60, the midnight train from London to Edinburgh yields over £20,000 for dividend in a year!

The longest railway journey in the United Kingdom would probably be from Penzance, in Cornwall, to Thurso, in the north of Scotland, a distance of over 1,000 miles. A train running between these two places would exhaust an ordinary clerk's salary for a whole year, the cost being no less than £138.—London Tit-Bits.

To Grow Teeth.

A Moscow dentist has solved the problem of supplying the human mouth with false teeth which will grow into the gums as firmly as natural ones. Dr. Zameny has performed several successful operations on dogs as well as human beings. The teeth are made of gutta percha, porcelain or metal, as the case may be.

At the root of the false tooth holes are made. Holes are also made upward into the jaw. The tooth is then placed in the cavity. In a short time a soft, granulated growth finds its way from the patient's jaw into the holes in the tooth. This growth gradually hardens and holds the tooth in position.

It is stated that it does not matter whether the cavity in which the tooth is to be placed is one from which a natural tooth has been recently drawn or whether it has been healed for some years.—Moscow Letter.

Sick Headache.
Neuralgia and Extreme Nervousness.

Dr. Miles' Restorative
Ever since I was eighteen years old until I learned of Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies, I suffered from sick headache and extreme nervousness and dyspepsia. In time heart disease developed. I was treated by several doctors with no relief. Severe palpitation with pain in left breast, shortness of breath, and smothering spells made me most miserable. I procured Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and New Heart Cure and took them alternately as directed. Improvement began at once and increased so rapidly that inside of six months I increased thirty six pounds in weight. All pain in the heart is gone, and the nervousness has wholly left me.

TO-DAY'S ELECTIONS.
Interest in today's election centers in Ohio and Greater New York. In Ohio both parties are claiming the result. The democrats are resting their claims on the fact that it is an "off year." The republicans are confident of carrying the day and securing an endorsement of the administration and that the entire state ticket will be elected and a majority in the legislature.

In New York the municipal contests have been very bitter, but the principal interest is centered in Greater New York which elects its first mayor under the new charter. With four candidates in the field it has been difficult to anticipate the result. Each party claimed the advantage until Henry George's sudden death still further complicated the situation.

In Maryland Senator Gorman has been fighting for his political life and the republicans express great confidence in their ability to turn him down today and carry the state.

In Kentucky a legislature is to be elected but many fusion candidates in different parts of the state make it difficult for any party to claim a decided advantage.

In Iowa it is simply a question as to what the republican majority will be.

In Pennsylvania there is no question as to the result. Dr. Swallow, the prohibition candidate is making some large claims.

Out in Nebraska, Bryan's state, the republicans have a good chance for carrying the state.

In Massachusetts, Colorado, Virginia, New Jersey and Rhode Island elections will be held but the contests have attracted little interest outside of the states themselves.

The Grandest Remedy.
R. B. Greeve, merchant of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made as it has done for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at W. F. Peter's drug store.

County Treasurer Alex Greger asks us to say to Seymour parties who have sent checks in payment of their taxes that they need not feel uneasy about their checks. Mail has been very heavy and it may be two or three days before he can attend to all.

After meals you should have simply a feeling of comfort and satisfaction. You should not feel any special indications that digestion is going on. If you do, you have indigestion, which means not-digestion. This may be the beginning of so many dangerous diseases that it is best to take it in hand at once and treat it with Shaker Digestive Cordial. For you know that indigestion makes poison, which causes pain and sickness. And that Shaker Digestive Cordial helps digestion. Shaker Digestive Cordial does this by providing the digestive materials in which the sick stomach is wanting. It also tones up and strengthens the digestive organs and makes them perfectly healthy. This is the rationale of its method of cure, as the doctors would say. Sold by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

A Mirror.
"To hold the mirror up to nature," Shakespeare said, "is the business of the theatre and the art of the actor."

The pessimistic Schopenhauer, to paraphrase the sublime man's words said, "Not to go to the theatre is like making one's toilet without a mirror."

When the supreme pessimistic end the supreme optimistic meet or one point it may be well for our people to meet and see Donald Robertson and Miss Brandon Douglass in "The Man in the Iron Mask," which we know is at least a true reflection of the days of dance and devilry and the foreshadow of the eclipse of an empire's reign. At the Seymour Opera House tonight.

Bad Story Telling.
If Oscar Wilde's assumption were to be taken seriously, that all fiction is lying, it might account for much that afflicts readers, since the lack of morale affects the intellect, and what is done without conscience is apt to be done badly. Of course all fiction is not lying, as all killing is not murder, but it is a sad fact that many writers of novels and short stories seem to have left their consciences and much of their brains behind when they go forth to work—as if these belongings might safely remain in seclusion, with the dress coat and the white tie, to be brought out only for special occasions. Artemus Ward once remarked that he had a giant mind, but did not have it with him, and that (or the latter half of it) is apt to be the case with any of us when we are careless. True, even good Homer sometimes nodded, but this affords no example for us who are not Homers. To come to our tasks otherwise than with all our wits about us and invite public attention to the chance "gozings of our brains" is as if one should issue from his apartments unshorn and half clad or enter upon the busy haunts of men without a napkin in his pocket.—Frederic M. Bird in Appleton's.

A Mirror.
"To hold the mirror up to nature," Shakespeare said, "is the business of the theatre and the art of the actor."

The pessimistic Schopenhauer, to paraphrase the sublime man's words said, "Not to go to the theatre is like making one's toilet without a mirror."

When the supreme pessimistic end the supreme optimistic meet or one point it may be well for our people to meet and see Donald Robertson and Miss Brandon Douglass in "The Man in the Iron Mask," which we know is at least a true reflection of the days of dance and devilry and the foreshadow of the eclipse of an empire's reign. A VIRTUE OF OLIVE OIL.
Man-of-war's Men Say That It Will Prevent Intoxication.
The glasses were going round when the man who had been in the navy spoke: "Wait a minute, boys. We've had several. Let me give you a tip that I learned when I was on the China station. You are pretty good drinkers, you Kentucky boys, and you can hold your own with anybody, east, west or north, who tries to put you under the table. But unless you carry out my plan don't you ever stack yourself up against an Englishman, and especially an army or a naval officer. You could knock him out on whisky, but he doesn't drink it, except in the shape of smoky Scotch and Irish abominations. But champagne, burgundy, claret, ale, sherry, madeira, port, pulque in Mexico, saké in China, palm liquor in Africa, bambos and shandygaff in India, steer clear of them—that is, unless you have the good luck to meet a certain little, yellow faced, wizened creature from Louisiana whose recipe is passed around the mess table of United States men-of-war to this day.

"It started in the old days when the British officers always had the pleasure of outstaying their American guests or hosts whenever two ships met on foreign stations. Then that little yellow devil came along with his trick, and the Englishman has never since come out better than second in any drinking bout. The secret? Olive oil. One wine-glassful before the fun begins, and, if possible, another later on, and you can keep your wit and legs throughout the dampest evening. I suppose one of two things happens. Either the oil coats the stomach and keeps the alcohol from being absorbed by the system, or else it floats on top and keeps the fumes from rising to the brain. But you'll have to ask the medicine men about that. All I know is its practical result, and that has enabled us Yankee Doodles to go home cheerful and clear headed many an evening when our foreign cousins were speechless."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

AMERICAN TOOLS ABROAD.
Purchasers Found For Them Nowdays Throughout the World.
American tools are sold all over the world. The New York representative of an American tool manufacturing establishment when asked where American tools were sent ran over the export orders received that day. They included orders from Hungary, Austria, Germany, France, England, South Africa and South America. There were altogether about 20 orders, and from some of the countries named there were two or three orders. The export orders of the previous day included orders from Russia, Australia and New Zealand, and these were not unusual orders, but such as are constantly received. In the shipping room at that moment stood cases marked for Java, for Ecuador and for Australia.

Many of these orders are small. In some cases there were orders for a single tool, or for two or three; for some orders of half a dozen or two or three dozen to supply orders or to keep lines filled. These small orders are mostly from European countries, with which communication is nowadays quick and convenient. European merchants order these things just about as merchants in other cities in this country would. It costs no more to send to London than it does to Chicago, and it is as easy to send to Berlin as it is to Paterson.

The characteristics that commend these American tools to their foreign purchasers are the same that mark American machines and implements generally—lightness, fine finish and perfect adaptability to their several uses. The exports of American tools to all parts of the world are steadily increasing.—New York Sun.

The medical department of the queen's household costs £2,700 yearly and comprises 24 persons.

A REAL TRAGEDY

ENACTED ON THE SEYMOUR OPERA HOUSE STAGE.

Ben Rosenfield Takes His Own Life in the Presence of the Girl he Loved—Story of the Tragedy.

A real tragedy was enacted on the Seymour Opera House stage last evening. Ben Rosenfield, the "property man," fired a bullet into his brain and fell dead at the feet of Miss Ethel Tucker, the girl he loved.

Ben went to the opera house late in the afternoon to take some property needed in the performance of "The Man in the Iron Mask" Tuesday night. Miss Tucker accompanied him, as it is said she frequently did, when he went to the opera house to perform such duties as fell to him as property man. They were there alone and the details leading up to the tragedy can only be learned from Miss Tucker. But she tells a straight story, which doubtless covers the facts.

Dr. M. F. Gerrish was the first to respond to the cries of the young lady. He was starting to supper a few minutes before 5 o'clock and after turning the Pellens corner on Walnut street he heard cries of "help, murder, etc." A moment later he saw Miss Tucker standing in the rear door crying frantically for help. Dr. Gerrish called to Clarence Hinsdale, who was just across the street, and both hastened to the opera house. When they reached the door they saw the limp form of Ben Rosenfield lying on the stage and the blood flowing from a pistol shot wound in his right temple. Grasped in his right hand yet was the revolver with which he took his life. Only one chamber of the weapon was empty.

When Dr. Gerrish took hold of the revolver Miss Tucker made an effort to get it, saying: "Let me have it and I will kill myself, too." A hasty examination showed that the shot was fatal. A few minutes later he breathed his last. By this time Mayor Bailey, a representative of the REPUBLICAN and several others were present. Miss Tucker, though under the highest strain of excitement, talked intelligently about the tragic affair.

She said that she had accompanied Ben to the opera house to take some property, preparatory to the play the next evening. He had been occupied with some work back of the scenes on the stage. She was sitting at the piano which was at its accustomed place in front of the stage. He came out on the stage and stopping directly in front of her, she says he said: "Ethel won't you marry me?" She replied: "Ben you know I can't do that." (It is reported that he had previously made proposals of marriage to her.) He then said to Miss Tucker that he would kill himself, for life would be nothing to him without her. She said: "Ben you are talking silly. You know you won't do anything of the kind."

He hesitated a moment and then said: "Ethel look at me." "Now come up here and kiss me," she says she went up on the stage and kissed him. He then requested her to look towards the entrance door which she reluctantly did. The instant her eyes were off of him, he drew the revolver concealed on his person and fired the fatal shot. The alarm was then given as stated above. The remains were taken to Husted's morgue and prepared for burial, but were not removed to Mrs. Rosenfield's home until today. The body will be taken to Louisville tomorrow forenoon for burial.

Ben Rosenfield was near thirty years of age, the son of Mrs. Julia Rosenfield, and had a wide acquaintance and many friends in Seymour. He had been long connected with the opera house as "property man," and rendered efficient service. He was a painter by trade. His tragic death was a severe shock to his mother who has been prostrated with grief since the news was broken to her. Mr. Joseph Kling, an uncle of the deceased, who makes his home in Cincinnati with his daughter, Mrs. Dunbar, and other relatives were notified and some of them are expected to arrive this evening. The relatives have the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

Miss Ethel Tucker, whom the tragedy

has given unsought notoriety, is the daughter of Charles Tucker, the local agent of a Vincennes brewing company. She has had employment at the hotels here, and has recently been employed at the Hotel Jonas. The shock to her was severe and a physician was called to attend her after she was taken to her father's residence.

To the Public.

Having just returned from a trip and hearing of the cards of Mr. Otto and Mr. Geo. Schaefer, published in last Wednesday issue of the REPUBLICAN, I will in reply say, I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Otto, representative of the Progress Furniture Company in Cincinnati and he approached me in regard to times in Seymour. I told him that the factories were all busy and the Progress Co. was busy cutting dimension work for the Band Saw Mill of Seymour, for whom I am soliciting orders. As for me saying they were not manufacturing furniture, is not true, but I did say that they were behind with orders and were working night work. If Mr. Schaefer will kindly notice the next issue of the Furniture Worker he will find a paragraph which will be very interesting to him.

Respectfully,

To reach the people of a city an advertiser likes to use the paper of the best character, that goes into the best homes and is read by the best people.

Many advertisers, however, believe that, all things considered, the best paper is the one that sells the most copies.

When the paper taken by the best people is also the one with the largest sale, that is always the one paper that an advertiser should use.

Such a Paper is the Seymour Daily Republican

The proved circulation of the REPUBLICAN is larger than that of any other paper published in Jackson county.

It is an evening paper of high character and has a worth to advertisers beyond the mere figures of its daily circulation. It has no waste circulation. Every copy goes into a home, because it is wanted.

How we Make You Safe.

In buying the preparations that enter so largely into prescriptions, we procure those made by houses who use assayed drugs. These are drugs that have been subjected to analysis and their actual medical strength determined. Such preparations cost more than many druggists care to pay, but no other should go into prescriptions.

Though we employ only the highest grade drugs, our prices are low and we do not believe are ever beaten.

Seymour REPUBLICAN.

John R. McLean's Seymour Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is no doubt no greater or more successful newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; and no more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean. The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: "The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to at a cheaper journal cannot afford."

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as in those of greater magnitude.

The Toledo Weekly Blade.

Every intelligent family needs in addition to their local paper, a good national weekly. The greatest and most widely known general family newspaper is the Toledo Weekly Blade. For thirty years it has been a regular visitor in every part of the Union and is well known in almost every one of the 70,000 postoffices in the country. It is edited with reference to a national circulation. It is a Republican paper, but men of all parties take it because of its honesty and fairness in the discussion of all public questions. It is the favorite family paper, with something for every member of the household. Serial stories, poetry, wit and humor; the Household department, (best in the world). Young folks, Sunday School Lessons, Talmage's Sermons, the Farmstead, the Question Bureau (which answers questions for subscribers) the news of the week in complete form and other special features. Specimen copies gladly sent on application, and if you will send us a list of addresses, we will mail a copy to each. Only $1 a year. If you wish to raise a club, write for terms.

CANDLE POWER.

How to Measure the Lighting Force and Effect of a Flame.

This question and its answer have been until recently of interest to scientists only. But since one method of lighting is competing with the other for superiority the question of lighting power has seemingly become a public matter. How many candle power? The question is very simple and yet mysterious to the layman.

For measuring the lighting power the most reliable results are obtained by means of a grease spot. In its most simple application the experiment can be tried easily at home. A sheet of white paper with a grease spot in the center is put into a frame and placed between two flames of different lighting power—for instance, between an ordinary candle and a lamp.

When the frame is equally distant from the two unequally bright flames, the grease spot can be seen plainly on both sides. By moving the frame with the sheet of paper slowly toward the less brilliant light—that is, the candle—it will arrive finally at a point where the grease spot has apparently disappeared on both sides of the paper. This position must always occur when on both sides of the paper an equal brightness prevails and no side light exists. Having reached this point, it can be ascertained how much stronger is the light of the lamp than that of the candle.

If the candle is 20 inches distant from the paper and the lamp 60 inches and yet the brightness on both sides of the paper is the same, then the light of the lamp will be as strong as that of nine candles. The calculation is based upon the distances, the figures of which are multiplied by themselves and then divided—here, for instance, 60 times 60 divided by 20 multiplied by 20 equals 9. This, of course, is the most primitive method for measuring light, but it is the principle for all the delicate instruments used in the laboratories.—Pearson's Weekly.

Queen Victoria's Wedding Cake.

Germans are puzzled considerably by the wedding cakes which Queen Victoria sends to royal couples that are married in German palaces. The cakes seem to be ordinary fruit cakes, of the same general composition as the ones seen at most English and American weddings, and their composition, solidity, weight and appearance are matters of uncommon interest to the editors of German journals as well as the people at large.

To the recent wedding in Coburg the queen sent a cake which the editor of the Gotha Gazette studied deeply in order that he might enlighten the anxious readers of his newspaper. He found that its diameter at the base was 3 feet 4 inches and at the top 8 feet. Its height was 3 feet 6 inches. It weighed 125 pounds, or 25 less than the cake her majesty sent to the wedding of the Princess Marie of Edinburgh several years ago. The editor explains that the density of the cake was remarkable—so remarkable, in fact, that a knife could not prevail against it, and a saw must be used to divide off the sections distributed among the guests.

The cake had been iced heavily in England, but its journey by sea and land from London to Coburg shook it up so thoroughly that most of the icing was in fragments at the end of the trip, and the cake was sent to a Coburg confectioner for repairs. Before the cake was served up it was displayed, with its top piece of artificial orange blossoms, among the presents of the princely couple.—New York Sun.

Love.

"Treddie's an awful fool, ain't he?"
"He's in love, you know."
"What has that to do with his being a fool?"
"Don't you know the definition of love? Two souls with but a single thought," etc.
"Well?"
"That allows Treddie just half a thought, you see."—New York Sun.

ONE OF TWO WAYS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble or some sort. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, see your urine aside for twenty-four hours; sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized if you need any medicine. You should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, but sent free by mail. Mention the Republic and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. UNCLE SAM'S AUCTION SALE.

One of the queerest "institutions" of the national capital is the annual clearance sale of the dead letter office, in which a vast accumulation of articles gone astray in the mails is sold to the highest bidder. The auction house where it is held is continually crowded with excited men, women and children, and beside the bargain counters during the holidays are as havens of rest, for when Uncle Sam goes into the junk-shop business great things are expected. As in the church fair raffle, you pay a small amount of money and trust to luck to get back more than its value. The articles, previously listed in a wholesale sort of way, are tied up in bundles of from three to a half dozen and "auctioned" for what they will bring, the average bids ranging between 10 cents and a dollar.

Nobody is permitted to examine the goods before purchasing, and no money is refunded to the dissatisfied. Everybody hopes to pull a genuine plum from the pie in the shape of a diamond ring, a silk dress pattern or a silver teapot, and although comparative blanks are the rule, there is always the possibility of a prize. For example, the auctioneer holds up one of these odd shaped bundles, listed "pictures, underwear, music, cigars." Going—going—gone—for 50 cents to a dapper young gentleman who was caught by the word "cigar." He opens it on the spot—an unwise thing to do if one objects to good natured ridicule—and this is what he finds: Six cigars, broken into bits with so strong an odor that one wonders how a sledge hammer could have done it; underwear—a female 19 cent "jersey"; pictures—a collection of newspaper cuts designed for amusement of some small child. The lot would be dear at a quarter and is of no use to the buyer.

In the dead letter office proper—that charnel house which swallows nearly half a million missives every month—it is positively harrowing. More than 40 bushels of photographs have accumulated there, awaiting the annual cremation. There are tresses of hair enough to stuff a dozen mattresses, grandmothers' silver locks and babies' golden curls, many no doubt cut from dead brows, and small sums of money which poor workmen send home to feed their wives and little ones, and servant girls save from their scanty wages for needy parents—gone to Uncle Sam's rich purse, not because the United States wants it, but because the senders' writing or orthography was beyond mortal ken. It is hard to realize that in this land of schools, at the close of the nineteenth century, there are so many people so ignorant or so careless as to send several millions of letters a year without stamps or addresses or with addresses which no man can make out. People seem to be so intent on what goes into the letters that they forget all about the superscription. It is estimated that $4,500,000 in drafts and $80,000,000 in cash is received every year through dead letters.—Indianapolis Journal.

COST OF A TRAIN.

The Expense and Profits of Travel on English Railway Lines.

How many people who travel in trains ever think of the cost of running them? It will probably surprise most people who have traveled from London to Edinburgh to know that every mile of the journey costs the railway company over half a crown. The cost of the whole journey from the English to the Scotch capital is £50.

The average cost of running a train in England is 2s. 7d. per mile, so that, the fare being reckoned at 1d. per mile, a train with less than 31 passengers for each mile is run at a loss. There are few trains, however, that do not carry more than this number of passengers, and many of them carry the number doubled many times over. It is necessary frequently to run trains that do not pay—usually in thinly inhabited country districts—but for every train run at a loss probably 100 are run at an enormous profit.

Take, for instance, the journey from London to Edinburgh, which costs the railway company £50. The average number of "through" passengers in these trains is probably 60, in which case the total fares would be nearly £100—a clear gain of nearly £50. When it is remembered that these trains run several times a day, and every day in the year, it will be understood what an enormous revenue a single line yields in the course of 12 months. Supposing the average number of passengers to be 60, the midnight train from London to Edinburgh yields over £20,000 for dividend in a year!

The longest railway journey in the United Kingdom would probably be from Penzance, in Cornwall, to Thurso, in the north of Scotland, a distance of over 1,000 miles. A train running between these two places would exhaust an ordinary clerk's salary for a whole year, the cost being no less than £138.—London Tit-Bits.

To Grow Teeth.

A Moscow dentist has solved the problem of supplying the human mouth with false teeth which will grow into the gums as firmly as natural ones. Dr. Zamensky has performed several successful operations on dogs as well as human beings. The teeth are made of gutta percha, porcelain or metal, as the case may be.

At the root of the false tooth holes are made. Holes are also made upward into the jaw. The tooth is then placed in the cavity. In a short time a soft, granulated growth finds its way from the patient's jaw into the holes in the tooth. This growth gradually hardens and holds the tooth in position.

It is stated that it does not matter whether the cavity in which the tooth is to be placed is one from which a natural tooth has been recently drawn or whether it has been healed for some years.—Moscow Letter.
